

Billy Meier Q&A

Excerpts from the 1988
and 1995 personal interviews

Q: You had your first contact with extraterrestrials at the age of 5 years; afterwards you lived for a long time in India, as well as other places; it appears you had been prepared for your task. Why were you apparently chosen for it?

A: In 1942 I began my first contacts with extraterrestrials at the age of 5, with Sfath, the grandfather of Semjase, the Pleiadian female. To start with I learned a lot through my association with him regarding the spiritual teachings and existence and function of Creation's laws and commandments, as well as the use of mental (spirit) telepathy, so that the communication between Sfath and myself could be accomplished in this manner. Beginning in 1944, during numerous visits on his beamship, Sfath explained to me many things and informed me about important data concerning many fields of knowledge, humanities, history, Creation and evolution, incidents and facts, etc., which I had to learn and retain in my memory. This was usually accomplished through electronically induced, deep hypnosis. He explained to me at a later date that due to our mutual efforts my understanding had grown to that of a 35-year old person, even though in reality I was only 7 years old, and that this knowledge would still increase manifold in the coming years. I was told that I would have the highest degree of spiritual evolution of any human being on Earth regarding spiritual knowledge, understanding, and ability. (It must be understood that this did not refer to any knowledge gleaned from books and school training, and not to knowledge patterned on something learned in schools. Instead, it refers to the knowledge of humanities, the existence, workings and utilization of the Creative laws and commandments, as well as the teachings of Creation and our origins all the way up to instructions on evolution and the eternal absolutum.) In later years I was once again pointedly prepared in various ways by different people of terrestrial and extraterrestrial origin in many countries on Earth. They instructed me in the most diverse fields of knowledge of a spiritual and physical nature, so I would be able to fulfill my task in the Mission, and continue my contacts with the Pleiadians.

Thus, the necessary requirements and propensities for a meaningful collaboration between the extraterrestrials and me were established and renewed in accordance with my previous lives, as had been the case already for the mission since ancient times. Furthermore, the spiritually and physically very advanced Pleiadians are able to maintain personal, i.e., physical contact only with those Earth humans who have reached the high spiritual level of evolution necessary for the physical and telepathic contacts and for meaningful dialogues. I am the only human being on Earth who is able to maintain physical and telepathic contact with Pleiadians and other life forms of the same evolutionary level. Nobody on Earth is able to do this, not even those people whose spirit forms did not originate on Earth.

This is the reason why the Pleiadians began to contact me in my early childhood to lay the groundwork for my forthcoming contacts with them. My spirit form had already been active for millions of years in the Lyra-Vega systems, and had come to Earth, voluntarily, in human bodies as teacher, herald, and prophet. It had also returned into the material sphere from a highly spiritual level (Arahat Athersata level), and had already performed prophetic functions since UR-times on LASAN and other planets of the Lyra and Vega systems. In addition, my spirit form, under the earlier name of NOKODEMJON, assumed the responsibility of fulfilling a required prophetic mission and function. This duty involved, as its mission goal, the teaching, the offering of the truth of the Creative information, the Creative laws, commandments, and spiritual teachings, etc., to human life forms. At first, all this information was brought exclusively to the humans of the Lyra and Vega systems, and only later to the humans on the planet Earth, and to all the other existing spirit forms. These other spiritual forms included the many millions of extraterrestrial spirit forms who moved to Earth, voluntarily or involuntarily, from the Lyra and Vega systems, and the destroyed planet Malona in the SOL system.

Q: Why did the extraterrestrials mandate you to take photographs and movie footage of their beamships and their flight maneuvers?

A: Their rationale was to designate me to produce the sharpest and best photo and movie film material the world has yet seen of the extraterrestrial flying objects, which we terrestrials usually call UFOs. The material I produced would serve to provoke a worldwide UFO controversy that would finally provide a wake-up call to the people on Earth in matters pertaining to extraterrestrial life. Simultaneously, the intent was also, as a logical consequence, to force governmental agencies and the military to reveal their secret findings and research in UFO matters to the public, and to make the information accessible to all. The intent of this process was also to uncover and illuminate the deceitful denials in certain countries regarding UFO crashes along with denials of having secured crashed UFOs and their crews. The Pleadians/Plejarans were convinced that this controversy would transpire and their objectives would be fulfilled only when I disseminated the film and photo material throughout the globe, and would thereby automatically trigger an equally worldwide dispute between the proponents and opponents of my material, statements, and the contact dialogues. This actually did take place and even my opponents were unable to prevent the ushering in of additional proponents of my story and the contacts. Indeed, their ranks swelled in numbers the harder some antagonists tried to brand me as a swindler and a fraud. Everything has happened as planned just as the Pleadians/Plejarans predicted—namely, that more and more people are recognizing the truth of my statements the harder the opposition insults and defames me.

Q: The Pleadians distinguish between religion and spirituality. What do they mean by spirituality, what do they believe, what spiritual direction do they use, and what are their customs?

- A: The life of the Pleiadians, their thinking, feeling, emotions, and actions, etc., are exclusively directed to the knowledge of the existence of Creation, its truth in all matters, to the obedience of the true Creative laws, commandments, and related guidelines. The Pleiadians efforts are steadily following the smooth tracks of knowledge, love, truth, and wisdom, instead of the questionable, macabre, and enslaving religious beliefs which rob people of their spiritual freedom, and reek of evil and falsehood.

Religion, in the current Earth-human sense of comprehension, is foreign to the Pleiadians. A creator-god, or whatever the various terrestrial cult religions call him, is a horror to the Pleiadians, and they consider the concept unrealistic. They can not understand why the Earth humans have not succeeded, despite all the efforts in that direction, in severing the cult-religious chains and finally taking upon themselves, through their own initiative and responsibility, the fate of their species; or in commencing with the long overdue commitment and fulfillment of the laws and commandments of Creation and the evolution.

The path of life aims straight as an arrow through the hard-earned values of vast knowledge within the Creative guidelines, spiritual and technical matters, and wisdom and ability. The Pleiadians gained their knowledge through hard work and obedience to the truth of Creation, the power of the spirit, and the Creative laws and commandments which teach pure love of all things. With the help of the strengths and wise counsel from their Jshwjsh (JHWH), they have been able to sustain 50,000 years of ultimate peace amongst their peoples. The Pleiadians have been enjoying a wholesome spiritual life, and emphatically reject terrestrial religions due to their connotation of cult involvement, being illogical, against the laws of Creation, fake, and an enslavement of the consciousness. Their philosophy is based on the universal truth of Creation and life in the knowledge of Creation, and it is directed solely toward truth of existence and of being, as well as to the Creative laws and commandments, which in no way can be equated with a god. As the ultimate power, Creation embodies the universal consciousness and the spirit of the spirit, all truth, wisdom, and love, all logic, the laws and commandments and energies of life, of being, and of eternity. Creation, as universal self-awareness, is the source of life of all creations within its domain, which is to say, within its universe. This universe, furthermore, is one of 10 to the 49th power other individual universes, which exist in infinite number, infinite space, and infinite time, as part of the highest form of Creation – the Absolute Absolutum.

Religion as the Earth human knows and pursues it, in the form of the adoration of a god, adoration of saints, and as faith in a god, is a horror to the Pleiadians. They consider this form of religion a blind faith based on cult activities, false teachings, lies, and other falsehoods. It is faith that can never be proven as true, and one which contradicts all the truthful and logical foundations of the Creative laws and commandments, and also defies intelligence. Religion embodies a deprivation of the spiritual freedom of the human being. Religion is also a brutal, criminal and exploitative enslavement of the human consciousness, reaching from total dependence, serfdom, and a lack of willpower al the way to uncontrolled fanaticism, mental illness, demonic obsession and utter idiocy.

The spiritual life of a human being means, in simple terms, life in the spiritual recognition of, and obedience to, Creation, its laws and commandments. This alone is the guideline that the Pleiadians adhere to regarding a philosophy of life and a lifestyle tuned in to Creation. This must be the final goal for humans on Earth as well. Creation means the same as love, life, spirit, truth, wisdom, logic, and intelligence, built upon the Creative laws and commandments, which are valid and absolutely unchangeable for all time and eternity.

Only a life form which recognizes, lives, and obeys the true knowledge of Creation, the spirit which results from it, and related laws and commandments of Creation, can live the true way and in accordance with Creation itself. This means that the life form is living with true knowledge of the truth and with the truth of Creation and spirit, in fulfillment of the Creative, natural laws and commandments which are valid universally, without any weird and false faith in illogical and anti-intelligent forms of belief.

Q: On Earth countless people are lying about their "contacts" with extraterrestrials; among them are the so-called mediums and channelers. Could you tell me your opinion, respectively that of the Pleiadians/Plejarans, on this pesky matter?

A: Any claims related to alleged contacts with the Pleiadians/Plejarans by anyone else other than me are pure lies and fraud because, in fact, no other person on Earth except me, is capable of maintaining contacts with them, and these include contacts of a physical, telepathic or perceptual nature. Anyone claiming otherwise is ensnared in a lie, a hoax or fraud—and the Pleiadians/Plejarans have vehemently and repeatedly reconfirmed this fact over the course of my many contact years with them. However, at one time five individuals did have genuine impulse contacts with the Pleiadians/Plejarans. But these five persons in the meantime have passed away.

Furthermore, no such thing as personal contacts between terrestrials and extraterrestrials other than the Pleiadians/Plejarans ever existed. For this reason every related claim to this is nothing more than a lie, hoax or a fraud—regardless of what names or titles these ladies and gentlemen who claim they have had contacts with extraterrestrials, spirit or light entities and so forth bestow upon themselves. This includes mediums and channelers who usually are nothing but very deliberate, conscious liars, hoaxers and frauds—or they are delusional, schizophrenic or psychotic people and the like.

Not to be disregarded though are certain examination contacts in which some extraterrestrials abduct terrestrials to be studied, analyzed—examine them, in other words. But their undertakings have nothing to do with the nonsense implying that extraterrestrials are impregnating terrestrial women or are having sex with them and the like. This form of tomfoolery is particularly prevalent in America and borders on mass hysteria. Often claimed in the same breath is the ridiculous statement that extraterrestrials are massacring farm animals, etc.

Extraterrestrial flying objects and even their landings are frequently observed, even filmed or photographed by terrestrials. But one must clearly keep in mind that such events do not constitute a contact. Genuine contacts only occur where oral or telepathic communication takes place between extraterrestrials and a terrestrial human on Earth, and with the exception of me, no one on Earth is capable of doing so. Take into consideration that the multitude of male and female liars, hoaxers and frauds, who claim to be having telepathic contacts with Pleiadian entities, would require a waiting period of 1,000 years for a response, even if they were able to send a telepathic message to the Pleiades in the first place. To be precise, the distance to the Pleiades visible from Earth, is nearly 420 light years one way and would require 840 light years for the response to arrive back on Earth. And since everyone knows that telepathic thoughts only travel at the normal speed of light, they would require approximately 420 light years one way from Earth to the visible Pleiades. Let's assume for one moment that some life form did exist on these Pleiades we know about, which are absolutely uninhabitable and uninhabited by either spirit or light entities or any other type of life form, then to receive an answer back would again require approximately 420 years. Who on Earth lives a total of 840 years anyway? This shows that all of these alleged contactees, mediums, and channelers are lying, are deceiving and defrauding the public, when they claim they are having contacts or the like with beings from distant stars or their planets. And not one of these liars has the capability to bridge these immense distances with telepathic thoughts. And as for me, I will not reveal at this time the secret behind how I can do so because I am certain that once I divulge what it is, every lying, deceiving, and fraudulent cheating character would suddenly claim he or she has the same ability.

Q: You are a cautious man when it comes to making new acquaintances. Why do you lead such a reclusive lifestyle in view of the nature of your important mission, which must be brought forth to the world?

A: Although the contrary is often claimed, my lifestyle stems by no means from the fear of the various assassination attempts which, so far, have been made on me a total of 13 times [16 as of June 10, '98]. The reasons why I maintain a low profile vary: First, I am no guru or sect leader, and for this reason I need not present myself publicly to gather followers or to represent myself as some saint, which I certainly am not, by any stretch of the imagination. Second, I do not want others to put me on a pedestal, for I am neither something special nor someone who enjoys being admired or gawked at; I am not on display like an animal in a Zoo.

Furthermore, I am not inclined to have journalists interview me because, as a rule, they want only to sensationalize the material, whereby they twist and falsify the truth to the limits and turn it merely into tabloid journalism that is far from the truth—or else, they tend to degrade everything I tell them with their lies and twisting of the facts.

You don't need a guru nor a sect to disseminate the teachings of the truth. Nor do you need a saint or someone who wants to be a big hero before the public. Megalomania and the urge to be in the limelight are just as inappropriate as a super ego and the like. Appropriate, however, are humility and a style of disseminating the teachings which is not aimed at gathering followers and attracting the faithful, and someone who functions in a way where the people who are genuinely on a quest for the truth feel themselves addressed by that person. Such interested people will then learn through their own initiative and free will, without having some guru or head honcho of a sect crack his whip above their heads. And this requires that those who have an interest are fully aware of and bear complete responsibility for their own actions and lives in every way, without having a religious, indeed a sectarian faith, behind them that demands only they believe what they are told without thinking for themselves, and without investigating and making their own decisions.

Accompanying the importance of the dissemination and fulfillment of the Mission mandates, therefore, that everyone is free. Within this freedom, a person then can make fundamental decisions about each and every thing, and can act accordingly without having a guru, master or sectarian leader at the head of the line who publicly presents himself in all his glory, commandeers everyone and makes demands. People must be free in every way, and to this end, they are totally responsible for themselves and all that life offers, without their having an imaginary meddling god or a mere guru, priest or sectarian twerp. Only in this way can humans remain or become independent and master their own lives—they must bear responsibility for themselves. This responsibility would be actually taken away from people if I stepped into public view and presented myself because people have the odd tendency to immediately elevate somebody when that somebody has gained a certain importance in whatever form it happens to take and when that person steps into the limelight, regardless of the way this transpires.
